

Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Which one stands out as odd?

- A) Pentobarbital
- B) Amobarbital
- C) Secobarbital
- D) Locobarbital

2. Which factors cause addictions?

- A) The psychological dependency on drugs
- B) A one time use of drugs
- C) Constant use of drug
- D) None of the above

3. An assessment's objective is to?

- A) gauge the validity of the instrument
- B) provide a diagnosis
- C) quantify an symptomatology
- D) gather detailed information for the treatment plan

4. DSM-5 is a tool that is used to?

- A) Determine the appropriate level of care
- B) Develop symptom specific treatments
- C) Make a diagnostic impression based on presenting symptoms
- D) Identify risk and protective factors relevant to the client

Answers: 1-D 2-A 3-D 4-C

For More Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Questions and Answers FREE, Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Online Prep Training, Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Exam, Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Study Guide, Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Flashcards, Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Quizzes visit: Chemical Dependency Counselor License Exam Practice Test