

FCCS Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Source control in sepsis refers to:

- A) Prescribing broad-spectrum antibiotics
- B) Physically removing or draining the infectious focus (e.g., abscess drainage)
- C) Isolating the patient in negative pressure room
- D) Reducing fever with antipyretics

2. The FOUR Score assesses which neurological domains?

- A) Eyes, verbal, motor, breathing
- B) Eyes, motor, brainstem reflexes, respiration
- C) Orientation, memory, attention, language
- D) Cognition, reflex, motor, sensory

3. What does a PaO₂/FiO₂ ratio less than 200 indicate?

- A) Mild hypoxemia
- B) Moderate ARDS
- C) Severe ARDS
- D) Respiratory alkalosis

4. Cerebral perfusion pressure (CPP) is calculated as:

- A) MAP + ICP
- B) MAP – ICP
- C) Systolic BP – ICP
- D) Diastolic BP + ICP

Answers: 1-B 2-B 3-C 4-B

For More FCCS Questions and Answers FREE, FCCS Online Prep Training,
FCCS Exam, FCCS Study Guide, FCCS Flashcards, FCCS Quizzes visit:

FCCS Practice Test