

Hibernate Framework Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. How does HQL differ from SQL?

- A) HQL operates on entity class names, SQL operates on table names
- B) HQL is faster than SQL
- C) HQL only supports SELECT, not INSERT
- D) HQL does not support joins

2. What is a named query in Hibernate?

- A) A pre-defined HQL query declared with @NamedQuery on an entity
- B) A query stored in a properties file
- C) A query generated at runtime
- D) A query with named parameters only

3. What is the meaning of lazy loading?

- A) Lazy loading is a technique in which objects are persisted on demand basis
- B) Lazy loading is a technique in which objects are loaded on demand basis
- C) Both of the above
- D) None of the above

4. What is dirty checking in Hibernate?

- A) Automatically detecting changes to managed entities and generating UPDATE statements
- B) Scanning for SQL injection in queries
- C) Validating entity constraints
- D) Checking for database connection errors

Answers: 1-A 2-A 3-B 4-A

For More Hibernate Framework Questions and Answers FREE, Hibernate Framework Online Prep Training, Hibernate Framework Exam, Hibernate Framework Study Guide, Hibernate Framework Flashcards, Hibernate Framework Quizzes visit:

Hibernate Framework Practice Test