

IFC Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. What does IFC typically stand for in building and fire safety codes?

- A) International Fire Code
- B) Internal Fire Control
- C) Industrial Fire Certification
- D) Institutional Fire Committee

2. What is the primary purpose of the International Fire Code?

- A) To regulate building construction materials
- B) To establish minimum fire prevention and life safety requirements
- C) To set insurance rates for buildings
- D) To train firefighters

3. Which type of occupancy typically requires the most stringent fire safety measures?

- A) Single-family residential
- B) Warehouse storage
- C) Healthcare facilities
- D) Office buildings

4. What is the minimum width typically required for exit corridors in most buildings?

- A) 24 inches
- B) 36 inches
- C) 44 inches
- D) 60 inches

Answers: 1-A 2-B 3-C 4-C

For More IFC Questions and Answers FREE, IFC Online Prep Training, IFC Exam, IFC Study Guide, IFC Flashcards, IFC Quizzes visit:

IFC Practice Test