

Master Brewer Certification Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Why is a hydrometer used in brewing?

- A) To measure temperature
- B) To measure the pH of the wort
- C) To measure the alcohol content
- D) To stir the wort

2. Why is carbonation important in brewing?

- A) To increase alcohol content
- B) To improve the color of the beer
- C) To enhance mouthfeel and effervescence
- D) To clarify the beer

3. Why is wort boiling essential in brewing?

- A) To increase the alcohol content
- B) To sterilize the wort and extract flavors from hops
- C) To clarify the beer
- D) To remove excess sugars

4. What is the role of a pH meter in brewing?

- A) To monitor fermentation speed
- B) To measure the alcohol content
- C) To measure and adjust pH for optimal fermentation
- D) To check beer clarity

Answers: 1-C 2-C 3-B 4-C

For More Master Brewer Certification Questions and Answers FREE, Master Brewer Certification Online Prep Training, Master Brewer Certification Exam, Master Brewer Certification Study Guide, Master Brewer Certification Flashcards, Master Brewer Certification Quizzes visit:

Master Brewer Certification Practice Test