

Mobile App Design Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. PPI stands for what?

- A) Points Per Index
- B) Pixels Per Index
- C) Points Picked Information
- D) Pixels Per Inch

2. What is a 'clickable prototype'?

- A) A prototype that responds to voice commands
- B) A static or designed mockup with defined hotspots that simulate app navigation when tapped
- C) A prototype uploaded to the App Store for beta testing
- D) A coded MVP with a working backend

3. What is 'A/B testing' in mobile app UX?

- A) Testing the app on two operating systems simultaneously
- B) Comparing two design variants with real users to determine which performs better
- C) Running alpha and beta test phases consecutively
- D) Testing features with two internal teams

4. In UX design, what is an 'error state'?

- A) A crash or system failure in the app
- B) The visual and textual feedback shown when a user's action cannot be completed
- C) An accessibility violation flagged by testing tools
- D) A failed build in the CI/CD pipeline

Answers: 1-D 2-B 3-B 4-B

For More Mobile App Design Questions and Answers FREE, Mobile App Design Online Prep Training, Mobile App Design Exam, Mobile App Design Study Guide, Mobile App Design Flashcards, Mobile App Design Quizzes visit:

Mobile App Design Practice Test