

NAD Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Oral transliteration involves:

- A) Silently mouthing words with slight visual cues to support a Deaf person who primarily uses speechreading
- B) Whispering the spoken message to a Deaf person
- C) Interpreting between spoken English and ASL without voice
- D) Using cued speech to represent phonemes

2. How are questions formed in ASL?

- A) By changing the word order of the sentence.
- B) By using specific question signs and facial expressions.
- C) By raising the tone of voice.
- D) By using specific hand gestures only.

3. Cued Speech is best described as:

- A) A visual phonemic system using handshapes near the mouth to supplement speechreading
- B) A simplified form of American Sign Language
- C) A system for representing written English in signs
- D) An alternative to cochlear implants for Deaf children

4. What is consecutive interpretation?

- A) Interpreting without pausing the speaker.
- B) Interpreting after the speaker pauses or finishes a segment of speech.
- C) Interpreting with a delay.
- D) Interpreting only for written content.

Answers: 1-A 2-B 3-A 4-B

For More NAD Questions and Answers FREE, NAD Online Prep Training,
NAD Exam, NAD Study Guide, NAD Flashcards, NAD Quizzes visit:

NAD Practice Test