

PACS Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. What does PACS stand for in medical imaging?

- A) Picture Archiving and Communication System
- B) Patient Assessment and Care System
- C) Portable Analysis and Contrast System
- D) Procedural Accuracy and Compliance Standard

2. Which standard protocol is used for transmitting medical images in PACS?

- A) HTTP
- B) DICOM
- C) FTP
- D) SMTP

3. What is the primary advantage of implementing a PACS system?

- A) Reduces the need for radiologists
- B) Eliminates film-based imaging and improves workflow efficiency
- C) Makes medical imaging unnecessary
- D) Reduces image quality

4. Which component is essential for long-term storage in a PACS system?

- A) Printers
- B) Archive storage
- C) Keyboards
- D) Telephones

Answers: 1-A 2-B 3-B 4-B

For More PACS Questions and Answers FREE, PACS Online Prep Training, PACS Exam, PACS Study Guide, PACS Flashcards, PACS Quizzes visit:

PACS Practice Test